Sunday, May 15, from 3:30 -5 p.m., at the Arts Mill Gallery & Boutique, 1300 14th Ave., Grafton, for the final art presentations of Project 3mpower.

The event is free and open to the public.

This collaboration involves children and young adults served by St. Aemilian-Lakeside and Kids4Kids, students from Homestead High School in Mequon who raise awareness and money for foster kids and youth aging out of the system. Since February, they have worked together to create visual and performing art under the direction of instructors from the North Shore Academy of the Arts in Grafton.

The project aims to illustrate foster life through art, build camaraderie and self-confidence, and change the way the public responds to the needs of foster youth.

The name 3mpower comes from the goal of empowering three populations: foster and non-foster kids and the public.

The Arts Mill Boutique also offers gift items and creative accessories developed by local artists and will be open for shopping.
